BROOKLYN GRIT. PLAYMAKING VISION.

Marques Watson is a crafty, pass-first guard with a Brooklyn-bred toughness. From the JUCO ranks to Division I basketball and now the professional game overseas, Marques has built his career on playmaking, competitiveness, and a knack for elevating his team's offense.

PLAYER BIOGRAPHY

Marques Watson is a 6'6" guard out of Brooklyn, New York, whose path to professional basketball ran through two high schools, a prep academy, two junior colleges, and four years at Manhattan University before turning pro. A natural playmaker with size for the guard position, Marques combines scoring instincts with the vision to set up his teammates.

After a standout prep season at Quality Education Preparatory Academy (18.0 ppg, 4.0 rpg, 6.0 apg), Marques developed through the JUCO ranks at Iowa Western and Miami Dade College before earning a Division I opportunity at Manhattan University, where he spent three seasons developing into a reliable contributor and starter.

Marques broke out in his first professional season with the Tri-State Admirals (TBL) in 2025, averaging a stuffed stat line of 16.7 points, 6.7 rebounds, 8.4 assists, and 1.7 steals per game across 7 starts. He followed that with a run in the Eurobasket Summer League in Las Vegas with Team Philadelphia before taking his game to another level in Portugal's 2ª Divisão with Clube Desportivo José Régio (Vila do Conde) – emerging as the team's go-to scorer with a dominant 21.5 points, 6.6 rebounds, 6.0 assists, and 2.0 steals per game on 50.9% shooting from the field.
