RELENTLESS ON THE GLASS.

Kenny Turner is a physical, high-motor forward who has steadily grown into a double-digit scorer and elite rebounder. A four-year collegiate starter turned pro, Kenny brings size, toughness and efficiency to every lineup he's part of.

PLAYER BIOGRAPHY

Kenny Turner is a powerful, athletic forward with a proven track record of production at the NCAA Division II level and an immediate impact in his first professional season. Standing 6'6" and 224 lbs, Kenny combines strength on the boards with a developing scoring package inside and out.

Over four collegiate seasons split between King University and Ferris State University, Kenny progressed from a role player into a starting-five force, culminating in a breakout junior season where he averaged 12.0 points and 7.2 rebounds per game. He enters his professional career with the tools of a rebounder, finisher, and floor-spacing threat.

In his rookie professional season with the Little Rock Lightning (TBL), Kenny has taken his game to another level — averaging 16.6 points, 9.0 rebounds, and shooting 50.4% from the field across 9 starts. He was the 2nd overall pick of the 2026 TBL Draft, selected by the Windsor Express with their 5th overall pick, and has since built a resume that includes Eurobasket Summer League action and a Top 20 selection at the Hart Sports Management Camp. A high-motor, versatile forward, Kenny is equally comfortable guarding all five positions, crashing the glass, and organizing his team as a vocal, team-first leader.
