PASS-FIRST. MEMPHIS BUILT.

Justin Batts II is a true floor general with a natural playmaking instinct, consistently ranking among the assist leaders at every level he's played. A steady, pass-first guard, Justin brings court vision and professional experience to any backcourt.

PLAYER BIOGRAPHY

Justin Batts II is a 6'3" point guard/shooting guard out of the Memphis, Tennessee area, whose game has always centered on playmaking and court vision. After starring at Briarcrest Christian School, he developed through two seasons at Southwest Tennessee Community College before earning a starting role at Baker University, where he spent three seasons as a floor general.

Justin was a consistent assist producer throughout his collegiate career, averaging as many as 3.8 assists per game as a junior at Baker. He took his game to the Eurobasket Summer League in Las Vegas in both 2024 and 2025 – posting an efficient 81.8% field goal clip with the ESL Camp squad in 2024 – before signing with the Little Rock Lightning (TBL) for the 2026 season.

In his rookie professional season with Little Rock, Justin has appeared in 11 games, averaging 2.0 assists per game while continuing to develop his all-around game at the professional level.
