NEW YORK TOUGH. ALL-AROUND GAME.

Rodney Ray Jr. is a versatile wing who can score, rebound, and defend multiple positions. From the JUCO grind to a productive NAIA career and now professional basketball, Rodney has built his game on toughness and all-around production.

PLAYER BIOGRAPHY

Rodney Ray Jr. is a 6'6" guard/forward out of New York City, whose path to professional basketball ran through two junior colleges, Glenville State College, and the University of Antelope Valley. A versatile wing with size and rebounding ability beyond his position, Rodney has consistently produced across every level he's played.

After developing through the JUCO ranks at Neosho County and Broward College, Rodney continued his climb at Glenville State before closing out his collegiate career at Antelope Valley in 2023-24, where he averaged 12.2 points, 4.5 rebounds, and 1.5 assists per game on an efficient 58.1% shooting from the field.

Rodney turned professional with the Tri-State Admirals (TBL) in 2025, delivering a well-rounded stat line of 13.0 points, 9.7 rebounds, 2.3 assists, and 1.0 steals per game across 6 starts. He also represented Team Golden State in the Eurobasket Summer League in Las Vegas in 2026, continuing to build his professional resume.
